

It's Time for State of the Union Bingo!

President Obama's State of the Union speech is on February 12th, 2013 at 9:00 pm ET. We have put together a BINGO card of issues we hope to hear President Obama discuss. In each square, you will find NETWORK's stance on an issue. If President Obama mentions that topic, circle whether you agree (+) or disagree (-) with his stance. You get a BINGO win when you have a whole row (or even more) of the President Obama mentioning policies you support.

Note: It is unlikely that President Obama will use the exact phrases written on your card in his speech. We encourage you to use our wording as a guide and a tool- choose your answer based on the way you think President Obama's messaging fits into our model.

If you win, you get a prize! Email our Field Associate, Ashley Wilson, at awilson@networklobby.org to get a sneak peek at our newest NETWORK Education Program resource, which addresses many of these issues. We'd also love to hear from you about State of the Union, so free to email Ashley with any follow up thoughts, questions, or comments you may have.
